Residential subdivision underway

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Earth moving is already underway for Elk Point's newest residential subdivision after town council studied three tenders for the development at last Monday's meeting, and agreed to go with Nikiforuk Construction Ltd. for the project.

"Do we do it in two parts, or get it all done." Mayor Parrish Tung asked council, who agreed it was most cost-efficient to do the entire project at once. Council also debated whether to pave the streets in the new area, and agreed that, "If we don't pave now, the buyers won't be happy." Council went in camera at the end of the meeting to set prices for R1 and R3 lots.

Sixteen 60-foot R1 lots were priced at $65,000 each, but the price for the R3 lots cannot be determined until town Manager Myron Goyan completes an outline plan showing the size of each, to be used in calculating individual lot prices.

Regional water line

Maintenance costs for county residents' hookups to the new regional water line were a topic of lengthy discussion, and Coun. Ron Fraess also pointed out that when the county takes over distributing water to its residents, bacteriological and other tests would have to be done on that water on a regular basis. "Who should be doing it?" he asked. Fraess also wondered who would be responsible for leaks, and who would pay for water that escaped in case of a leak.

The mayor feels the number of county installations will increase, and the $50 per month the county is charging each one will pay for maintenance and repair.

Sean Hill named 29th Oilmen's champion

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Sean Hill of Lloydminster was declared the 2012 Elk Point Oilmen's Association golf champion on Saturday night, after a steak barbecue capped off three days of sun-drenched golf action. Tyson Stafford placed second in the championship flight, with Robyn Moroziuk third and Curtis Porcina fourth.

Moroziuk, who heads the EPOA Golf Tournament organizing committee, started off the windup ceremonies with thanks to all who participated and to all the many sponsors to the successful 29th annual event. He went on to present a long list of hidden hole prizes before announcing the top golfers in each of 12 flights.

Hidden hole winners for the long drive on the first hole were Tyson Stafford and Wade Poitras. The prize for landing in the bush on hole two went to Cale Walker, while Darcy Stafford and Doug Golledge were closest to the pin on hole three and Tim Poulin found the bunker on hole four. Art Lypka accepted the prize for a three-putt-or-more on hole five, while Preston Krankowsky and Phil Ward were closest to the pin on six. Mike Ernst went out of bounds on six for his award, Curtis Croteau had the shortest drive on eight and Brad Pelly and Allan Loughran had the longest putts on nine to win their prizes.

New MLA visits council

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

MLA Shayne Saskiw visited Elk Point town council's Aug. 13 meeting, and said he is meeting with all the municipalities in the Lac La Biche - St. Paul - Two Hills constituency, and hopes to make it a regular event, "probably twice a year."

Saskiw told council that he grew up on a farm in the Two Hills area, and after completing high school, went on to earn degrees in accounting and law. "I'm 31 today, and the youngest in the Legislature," he said, earning a round of applause in honour of his birthday.

"The ethics watchdog in the Leg," Saskiw said the five-day spring session was an opportunity "to get my feet wet," but there was "really no legislation" to report from the session.

Saskiw called the $750 million allocation for carbon capture "corporate welfare" and said it "puts the legal liability on the taxpayer."

He noted progress in the issue of food in hospitals, but said it's "going on two years" since the issue first surfaced, and with changes to be implemented over the next three months. "I would like to see if the hospital kitchens will be used. I'm Ukrainian, and food is very important to us." There were "never any cost savings shown" after the move to the 21-day diet of food prepared offsite, he noted. "I think (hospitals) should buy locally and cook good food."

Saskiw also touched on the Health Services scandal, and says that department "is in disarray right now, with the front line people penny-pinchd. The College of Physicians and Surgeons is pretty upset that the contract won't be honoured, and the doctors are upset about the family care clinics." He said the latter, $1.4 billion project "may have to be scrapped."

Subdivision underway

"The county should be responsible to look after those lines."

Mayor Tung said the water commission's original business plan had been to equally share the administration costs for operating the line 50-50. That has now been changed to 80 per cent for the town and 20 per cent for the county for administration, he said, "but we never agreed to 80 - 20 on maintenance."

Goyan said the town's responsibility for testing water at this end of the line remains the same as when water is pumped from the river. "When it goes into our system, we have to check if there's enough chlorine with constant monitoring. The county should pull biological samples weekly from each customer. What happens between when the water is produced and the water is delivered to county residents is the county's problem."

"I don't think we should be paying for problems with the county residents' services," Coun Bernice Capjack said.

Coun. Dwayne Yaremkevich agreed, "I don't want to be responsible for the county lines."

Mayor Tung commented that the county is getting $50 per month for each hookup, which would help to cover the cost. "The commission owns the lines to the county boundary, which is the property lines. I can support that. Residents pay for the hookups, and the commission owns the line. Who will be paying for upkeep on that?"

Coun. Ron Fraess feels that "they have to have a official separation between the commission and the county lines. There should be a valve there."

Mayor Tung agreed to talk to the county "as the mayor" in an effort to get the matter settled.

Century farm celebrated at O'Kane reunion

By MARY O'KANE DEMERS
Review Contributor

The descendants of Henry and Anna O'Kane gathered at the old homestead on the August long weekend to celebrate the Centenary of his filing on this quarter section of land—NW-16-57-6-W4.

The Alberta Provincial Government awards a bronze plaque to any farmer or rancher who has continuously owned and operated the land for 100 consecutive years. We qualified for this plaque and made arrangements to get it.

Some creative relatives made a fitting monument to the pioneers incorporating an old hay rake wheel along side the newly formed stand for the plaque. The old and the new represent the 100 year span of time.

This monument is erected in the southwest corner of the homestead. The base of the monument is adorned by rocks brought by descendants from Ireland, Minnesota, Ontario, BC and Alberta. Ireland is a country full of rocks and rock fences and my dad and brothers picked many a stoneboat load of rocks from the fields in early days. I thought it only appropriate to enshrine some 'rocks' in the monument.

Henry and Anna raised a family of six children in this area, three of whom are still living. His eldest son, Edward and myself, Mary, a daughter welcomed 75 family members to a trip down our memory lane imparting much history along the way. Our sister Rosella is still with us, but unfortunately her health did not allow her to attend. We all missed her wit and spunk.

One of Dad and Mom's great-granddaughters, along with her siblings, wrote and put on a skit based on their story, from the famine in Ireland that brought many to America and Canada, to my grandfather's involvement in the Great Chicago fire, to my dad leaving the comforts of Minnesota to homestead in Canada to present day. Many other great- and great-grandchildren got caught up in the excitement of the project and the production was a great hit. Well researched, both funny and historical.

We rented the Seniors' Centre for the weekend as a plan B in case of rain. Thank goodness we did not need it for that reason. Sunday night, James and Yvonne Inglaish, a local caterer served us all a scrumptious sit-down meal.

The O'Kane descendant's weekend in Elk Point created many wonderful memories: for some, it was their first visit to Henry and Anna's home town of many years; for others a return visit down memory lane. Thank you for the warm welcome.

P.S. We lost our sister Rosella Wed. Aug. 15, 2012. May her soul rest in peace.

- There are hundreds of thousands of "apps", programs for smart phones and electronic tablets. There is even one available for gambling addicts. Gambling addiction is a mental health problem and only 10% of those with a gambling problem seek help. The app is called Mobile Monitor Your Gambling and Urges (MYGU) and is downloadable for free from iTunes.
- The drug ecstasy is an illegal recreational drug used by some young people. Even one or two doses of this drug can result in long-term sleep problems. Over 70% of users report having disturbed sleep because the drug, being a stimulant, resets the body's clock which often resets at the wrong time. Mood disorders can also occur.
- Many of the drugs we use today originated from nature. It's always interesting when a common product like thyme, formulated into a tincture, is found to have antibacterial effects that may make it useful in treating acne. It's far from being available on our shelves for that purpose but it does show promise.
- Antibiotics have saved millions of lives since the discovery of penicillin in the 1940s. In 1900, the three main causes of death were tuberculosis, pneumonia and enteritis (intestinal infections). Antibiotics have reduced the threat of these medical problems immensely.

Pioneer spirit strong

Every year now, the Elk Point area is honoured with the designation of one or two century farms, indicating that the descendants of the family that homesteaded that property still own and operate it.

In a time when people move from place to place on a frequent basis, and change jobs equally frequently, the thought of remaining in one place and carrying on the business started 100 years ago is unconceivable to many.

Congratulations to those who hang on, despite all the world throws at them, and keep their legacy intact.

Way Back When...

Homestead reunion, summer snow, half-century business

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF AUG. 21 IN...

1987

Norma Berg topped the Baking, Canning, Fresh Fruit, Flowers and House Plants sections on her way to winning the Elk Point Fair's Grand Aggregate award, while Jodi Vogel of Elk Point 4-H Multi Club created a bouquet of edible garnish flowers from vegetables, Edith Mitchell displayed quilting designs and techniques and Billie Milholland drew a crowd as she worked on two panels of the Elk Point historical mural. Descendants of Rudolf and Emily Ludwig, who homesteaded on Moose Mountain in 1912 marked the 75th anniversary of that event by coming from as far away as Washington, DC and Azusa, California to visit the old homestead.

1992

A sizeable dump of snow sent residents scurrying for their shovels on Aug. 21 when a very early winter storm followed right on the heels of 30-degree temperatures earlier that week. Elk Point learned that Greyhound Bus service would end Sept. 8 due to a sluggish economy, but would not be left without bus transportation, thanks to John Henderson of Quality Time Tours, who said his company would offer the same service on the Marwayne to Edmonton run at a comparable price, but for only five days a week rather than six.

1997

Elk Point Gas marked a half century in business, with Joe Tredger, part of the cooperative since its earliest days, accepting a commemorative plaque from Dick Ziegler of the Federation of Gas Co-ops. Christina Brown made it four Elk Point Fair grand aggregates in a row, winning Baking, Fresh Fruit, Knitting/Crochet/Weaving and the Seniors section as she edged past Lois Yaremkevich and Gisele Pederson, who placed second and third overall.

2002

Elk Point was waiting for Health Minister Gary Mar's response to the Lakeland Regional Health Authority's revised budget, but was not optimistic after Mar visited Elk Point on a whirlwind tour of the LRHA region and said he was "not in favour of having a hospital every place two roads cross." William John shot a championship-winning total of 159 as 128 golfers competed in 28 flights at the Oilmen's Golf Tournament.

2007

Lindsay Jenner was named the 2007 Oilmen's Golf Tournament champion, with an updated format for the 24th annual tournament. Economic development was on town council's to-do list, after ED committee representative Bob Bezpalko questioned the status of recommendations made in the fall of 2006, for improved signage, and a marketing plan.

GUEST COLUMN

School attitude

Yes, that is right – summer is almost over and it will be back to school next week on August 30th for the students who attend the elementary, junior high and high school in the town of Elk Point. When our students are thinking of going back to school, their first thought might be the thought of going shopping for new school supplies, which includes new clothes, etc. Many stores market this back to school attitude so it is easy to understand why our students feel it is a necessary part of their lives.

Then there is another back to school attitude, which may or may not be thought about. For example some students set back to school goals where they desire to have a better year at school in any area where they may have shown weaknesses in the previous year. The question that now can be asked is: "How do students accomplish improvement in any goal they set?" There are probably a number of ways that could be considered. However, a logical first start would be to break bad habits.

When you think of bad habits it is best to start by becoming aware of the habits in your life you'd be better off without. Then, make realistic goals and reward yourself for achieving them. For example one bad habit with students would be the goal of being perfect. Perfectionism as a culture is when we are encouraged to always do our best. But sometimes we mistakenly think we are accepted only after doing something right, like earning 100% on all school tests. "Perfectionism is a lifestyle issue that often has to do with how you view yourself," MacArthur says. "Perfectionistic people often find themselves unacceptable if they don't do everything right." How does one fix this attitude? Redefine your self-image so it is more self-tolerant, reasonable and flexible. MacArthur says to tell yourself, "I'm okay 'in process'; it is okay to make mistakes." He adds, "Mistakes can be part of learning." Try to remember life is a growing process, and don't expect to be fixed the first time you try. Thus don't set an unrealistic goal for the new school year – set one you are capable of reaching.

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

Another possible bad habit for students or anyone is the late-night snacking. Eating late at night is the result of one of two motivators; one is physiological. "If you don't eat a balanced breakfast, your body is at a deficit at the end of the day," says Kendra Shaila Fried, a dietitian from Wasatch Integrative Health. This causes you to crave foods at night in order to make up for the loss. For example, if you don't eat healthy fat (some nuts or oils), you could crave ice cream or other forms of undesirable fat, she says. "Our bodies can't utilize this energy efficiently while we are sleeping so we store the calories as fat." You might also be ignoring what your true needs are. Fried says we all need "primary food," which consists of good relationships, spirituality, hobbies, and other things that make us whole. If you don't nourish yourself with primary foods, you can end up craving comfort foods to compensate.

How does one fix this attitude? If you late-night snack because of physiological reasons, make sure you're getting enough to eat during the day. "Discover the best breakfast for yourself," Fried says. Experiment with different foods for breakfast and document how you respond to it. Are you still hungry? Are you satisfied? Also, you might not be getting enough for lunch, so fill up earlier in the day when your body can still burn calories. If you're snacking not out of hunger, but out of more emotional reasons, Fried recommends replacing your snacks with primary foods. "Discover the things you enjoy doing and feed yourself on that level." Thus students need to find a balance between school subjects and something else they are interested in.

There are other possible bad habits, but the last one that some students might have is being lazy with some subjects in school. It's hard to be motivated about mundane and boring things. But you want to take a look at your laziness, because it can be an indicator for something larger. "A lot of people think they lack motivation, but they really lack passion or inspiration," Maw says. "When we're working on something that matters, laziness doesn't even come into play." Therefore to fix this attitude, the student needs to find a way to see the subject in a way that it contributes to his/her life.

All these bad habits are only ideas with suggestions from various authors. Are any of them yours? Changes to bad habits will make a difference and yes your school attitude will improve.

Champion curler likes challenge on greens

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

What's a champion curler like Carter Rycroft doing in the broiling sun on the Elk Point Golf and Country Club fairways? Why, he's keeping up his frustration ready for the next curling season, of course.

"I like to challenge myself," Rycroft says. "There are so many parallels between curling and golf, mostly on the mental side of things. You have to keep that focus."

There are differences as well. "I could use a few sweepers on some of my putts," he quips.

That Rycroft was in town for the 29th Annual Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament was not as far a stretch as that between the two sports, because when he's not on the rink or the greens, he's an oilman himself, as the owner of Nisku based Prairie West Ventures, a light oilfield trucking company.

"I try to do a few oilmen's golf tournaments each year," he notes, adding that Troy Lorenson of Yellow Arrow Oil Tools is not only a friend but one of his curling team sponsors and "he and his company have been good to us." He has more good friends at Wild Rows Pump and Compression, who sponsored him for 10 years on two different teams.

"I have a real connection to this area, with great friends and great people. I met them through curling and the oil patch and I can't say enough about them."

Sponsorship is important to competitive curling teams, Rycroft noted, as the curlers not only have to take time off work to compete, but also have added expenses for travel and accommodation. "And most of them don't make money when they take time off work to curl," he says, his teammates being a chiropractor, an accountant and a landman.

"Curling is my passion. Working pays the bills," says Rycroft, who has been curling since he was 10 - "I'm 35 now" - and has been playing golf almost as long.

"It's a tough, tough grind. Work demands so much of your life and curling is second or third, and that makes it hard to compete," he says of Canadian curlers. "Some other countries, curlers just curl, they're funded to do that." It's a difference that also affects other competitive sports and may be responsible in part for Canada's poor medal count in the recent Olympics.

Another factor for that, he says, is "We're a winter sport country. The atmosphere (at the Winter Olympics) is different." The excitement just wasn't there for him in watching the summer version, "Half the time I didn't even know who won what."

Public Notice Environmental Protection and Enhancement Act (Alberta) Notice of Application

In accordance with the Environmental Protection and Enhancement Act (Alberta), Part 2, Division 2, Pipeline Management Inc., as the General Partner of Inter Pipeline Fund ("Inter Pipeline"), is applying to Alberta Environment and Sustainable Resource Development to construct the Cold Lake Mainline South Loop in northeast Alberta.

The Cold Lake Mainline South Loop will involve the construction of approximately 240 km of 1,067 mm (NPS 42") pipeline from the Cold Lake Pipeline La Corey Pump Station in 14-30-63-5 W4M to the Hardisty Terminal area located in Township 42, Range 9 W4M.

In order to minimize the overall footprint of the proposed new pipeline, Pipeline Management Inc. plans to construct the Cold Lake Mainline South Loop pipeline by utilizing as much of the existing Cold Lake Pipeline right-of-way and other third-party linear disturbances as safely feasible.

Pipeline Management Inc. will require a new permanent right-of-way for the construction, operation and maintenance of the proposed pipeline. New block valves will be located at suitable locations, including major rivers along the pipeline route. Block valves will be buried and aboveground facilities will be fenced in the same manner as the facilities associated with the existing Cold Lake Pipeline.

Subject to regulatory approvals, pipeline construction will primarily occur between May and December 2013; however, some construction activities (i.e., clearing, horizontal directional drill watercourse crossings, etc.) may occur between late 2012 to the summer of 2014.

Any person directly affected and wishing to file a statement of concern with respect to conservation and reclamation activities can do so by writing to the Director of Southern Region, Alberta Environment and Sustainable Resource Development, Regulatory Approvals Centre, Main Floor, Oxbridge Place, 9820 - 106 Street, Edmonton, Alberta T5K 2J6.

ST. PAUL No. 19

HIGHLIGHTS August 14, 2012 Council Meeting

Speed Reduction on Highway 28 near Ashmont Access – In an effort to increase safety at the main access off Highway 28 into the hamlet of Ashmont, Alberta Transportation agreed to an 80 km/hr speed zone stretching a total of 470 metres from east to west of the main access. Maximum speed ahead signs will be erected 210 metres for eastbound traffic and 280 meters for westbound traffic.

Ashmont / Lottie Lake Water Line – Matt Brassard from Urban Systems provided Council with an update regarding the Ashmont/Lottie Lake water project. An application has gone to Alberta Environment for an increase to the water license for the Ashmont water treatment plant that will provide water to both Ashmont and Lottie Lake. Urban Systems is still in the process of piloting different water treatment options in order to determine the best solution for treating water for the new water treatment plant. This testing should wrap up near the end of September. At the same time they are conducting a residual water discharge study to look at alternatives for the discharge of residual water from the new plant. Once this study is done the costs of the new water treatment plant and residuals option will be presented to Alberta Transportation in order to determine the best option for supply of water to Ashmont and Lottie Lake residents. The water transmission line that runs between Ashmont and Lottie Lake should be complete at the end of August. Urban Systems is also providing information to Council regarding the possibility of a new water distribution system in the hamlet of Lottie Lake. Council will be having a resident meeting with lot owners to discuss this proposed new system later in August.

Regional Water Line – Construction is underway on the regional water line and the engineers are finalizing the locations for the 17 single and 2 dual meter vaults in order for adjacent rural residents to connect to the water transmission line.

Bylaw No. 1601 – The landowner made application to the County Planning and Development Department to rezone 37.99 acres situated in NE 35-58-10-W4 from Agricultural to one lot of Industrial Commercial and 3 lots of Country Residential. The property is situated along Owlseye Lake. Council heard from a group of concerned ratepayers who expressed their opposition to the rezoning application. The ratepayers are concerned with taking pristine farmland out of production, with the unsuitable drainage from the property down to the lake, and with the increase in traffic along Range Road 590. After listening to the ratepayers, Council unanimously agreed to defeat Bylaw No. 1601 at second reading, therefore the rezoning will not proceed.

Rezoning Bylaws – Council approved Bylaw No. 1602, which is a bylaw to rezone 5.86 hectares in NW 19-60-9-W4 from Urban Expansion to Industrial / Commercial. Council gave first reading to Bylaw No. 1603, which is a Bylaw to rezone PSE 17-58-9-W4 from Agricultural to Country Residential. The landowner wants to create residential lots. The adjacent landowners will be notified and the proposed rezoning will be advertised.

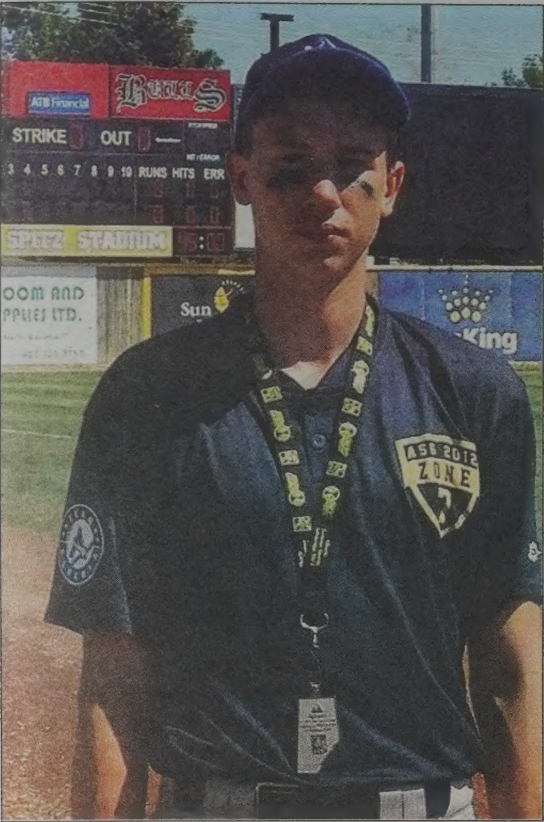

Bush Buggy Fire Fighting Unit – The Elk Point Fire Department is fundraising for a firefighting unit mounted on an ATV mobile which is capable of fighting fire in remote areas. Council agreed to assist the Elk Point Fire Department with building the skid for their unit and allow them to purchase the trailer from their operating budget, which the County contributes to.

Funding –

- $5,000 for Elk Point Chamber of Commerce
- $200 for Elk Point Grandparent Day Walk
- $1,920 to Iron Horse Trail & Grooming Club to assist with Operating Costs

Rodeo Week – Don't forget to stop by our office next week to check out our decorations.

Special General Meeting

of the

Elk Point Rural Electrification Association

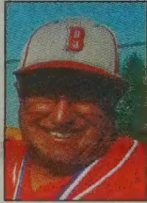

Wednesday, September 5, 2012 at the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre
Meeting 7:00 p.m.

Doors will be open from 1:00 to 5:00 pm for contract updating.

Your Board of Directors has called for a Special General Meeting regarding the future of the Elk Point Rural Electrification Association and the possible sale of the REA assets to ATCO Electric. At this meeting an extraordinary resolution will be discussed and voted upon.

It is in the best interest of the future of electric service in our area that we encourage you to attend this Special General Meeting and participate in the vote. Note that in order to have eligibility to vote, each member must have a valid wire service contract with the Elk Point REA.

It's been a while since we wrote but I have a great excuse. I was over in London at the 2012 Olympic Games and all I can tell you it was the most absolute awesome experience. Next week we will get into some of our adventures.

Review Sports

Seems like forever now, but the Braves as you know played down in Acme for the tier one midget provincials the last weekend in July, just before we left for London. The boys came in to the tournament as underdogs and came home with the silver medal. Braves defeating the host Acme fairly easily in the first game, then losing a bad one to Red Deer in the second game, it made for a must win in the third game against Camrose, who happened to be last years tier one provincial champions. It took all seven innings with Jonathon Shapka on the hill, but he came through big, we pull it off, sending us to the semi against Rocky Mountain House. Now we also have lots of history with Rocky too, this is the same team that broke our hearts last year in the semi when we have a four run lead in the bottom of the seventh and couldn't hold it. This time Lucas Church was on the hill, the game tied 5 all at the bottom of the seventh with two out and two strikes on Jordan "NO Good" Nault, he drove in the winning run sending the boys to the final. In the final it was the Braves against the host Acme again. Acme defeated the league leading Vegreville team who only lost one game all season in the close semi-final. With both of our bullpens pretty much tapped out it was a slugfest in the end that the Braves lost 16 to 14.

Acme winning the gold in tier one also got the honors of representing Alberta at Westerns in Manitoba this past weekend; they wanted to take two of our boys, our number one ace Jonathan Shapka who already had a previous commitment and couldn't go and Lucas Church. Lucas did play very well, pitched in one round robin game and even pitched a few innings in the final game. Alberta hasn't done very well in Westerns in the past, but Acme with some pick-ups did a great job this year losing to Manitoba in the final, Lucas getting another silver medal.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "The day I retire is the day I'll feel old. I'm not there yet." Last week's answer to: "Victory is everything. You can spend the money but you can never spend the memories." - Ken Venturi.

Ball player MVP at Westerns

INFORMATION SUBMITTED

Elk Point teen Hannah Ludlage was the main pitcher and shortstop for the U16B Lloydminster Rebels all season as they went on to win gold in Provincials in Lloydminster – winning all their games.

Hannah also played with the Marwayne Marauders as a pick up centerfield at the women's open provincials in Calgary. Unfortunately, that team lost and never placed. Hannah hit well and played strong, turning over a few double plays from the field with her strong arm.

Hannah made the Zone 7 Alberta Summer Games team as pitcher and short stop. They won third place in Lethbridge.

At the summer games, Hannah was scouted and asked to play with the Strathmore Thunder at Western Canadians in Strathmore. She was picked up as a fourth string pitcher, relief shortstop and centerfield, but ended up ended up playing every single game at Strathmore as a centerfield as Thunder placed five out of the 11 teams from western Canada. Her speed, "TSN" game-saving catches in various games and powerful throwing arm earned her two awards during the tournament – MVP and most sportsmanlike player. "Wowzers! We were so proud!" enthused her mother, Jackie.

Hannah is "not necessarily a home run hitter", Jackie explains, "although she can hit a three bagger on occasion – she is one of those batters who always seems to get on. Soft little hits, bunts and lots of speed getting to first!"

Hannah in action.

Jackie Ludlage photos

The taste of Provincials victory was sweet for Hannah Ludlage, who went on to play in the Alberta Summer Games and to earn MVP and Most Sportsmanlike titles at the Western Canadian Championships.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of Barrie McFadyen
May 3, 1945 - Aug. 22, 2007

I still talk to you when I am alone, see you in my dreams and hear your voice when a soft wind blows. When I sit at the table, I sit in your chair and look out the window at the cows, grazing so contently, I close my eyes and I can see you walking among them, giving each one a pat ever so gently.

Ten thousand words won't bring you back, I know because I've tried, neither will ten million tears, I know because I've cried. You left me with a broken heart, but happy memories too, I never wanted memories, I only wanted you.

I mourn for you in silence, no one can see me weep, but many tears are shed while others are asleep.

Missing you more every day.
Chris & Family.

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Barrie Wayne
McFADYEN
May 3, 1945 - Aug. 22, 2007

*Five years ago, you were called away
And our family circle has since been changed forever.
Your kindly words and special smile
Your thoughtful, loyal and helpful ways
Are a pleasure to recall - never to be forgotten.
Thoughts of you are always with us as our lives journey on.
You left us so suddenly and so unexpectedly
But you left us memories we are proud to own
Those special memories of you and bygone times
Are memories we will always cherish.
In our hearts, you will always be our very dear Brother, Remembered with love, honour
and respect
And always sadly missed.*

Home business owner to attend Utah retreat

INFORMATION SUBMITTED

Stampin' Up, a direct sales company that specializes in paper crafting, scrapbooking, digital designing and home decor, recently recognized local businesswoman Daleen Pinder with an invitation to attend the company's annual Founder's Circle Retreat. Earning a spot in the Founder's Circle is one of the most sought after awards for Stampin' Up demonstrators. These demonstrators exemplify all that Stampin' Up represents and work hard to share their love for creativity and stampin with others as they strive to make a difference in the world around them.

Pinder will join other demonstrators from the United States and Canada for a relaxing and inspiring weekend retreat at St. George, Utah in September.

Pinder, who ranks in the top 20 of that company's Canadian representatives, says she feels "so truly honored and blessed to have this wonderful opportunity. To share creativity with women brings me such joy! I am passionate and so grateful to have a business that gives me such pleasure.

"I have a fabulous team of demonstrators and amazing customers that have helped make my dream a reality, and for this I'm truly grateful."

Champion curler on golf

With the Winter Olympics, "I knew when all the finals were, and who was in them."

There's also a big difference between curling in the Olympics and the Brier, says the veteran of both.

"In the Brier, you want to be friends and socialize. Even the Olympic trials were all about fantastic curling and who's going to get to go. It's way more serious."

At the trials, he and his teammates on Kevin Koe's team "had peaked, and we had three bad misses. Everyone knew we were gone. It was Martin and Howard, with Stoughton and us on the outside. We were basically one game short."

The Koe team went right from the Olympic trials at Rexall Place to zones, continuing on to district, the Canadian championship and the World championship, where they won gold.

"It's a good thing we didn't dwell on our loss in the trials," he said.

Rycroft has been to the Olympics, in 2002, when he played with Kevin Martin, and says that in Olympic competition, "You're part of a massive team, you know you have the whole team behind you. It's a whirlwind of events, 25 days of highs and lows."
